Interested in Railroads

You may find the Abilene Society of Model Railroaders (ASMR) a good outfit to get on board with. We are a non-profit organization of train nuts whose mission is to help preserve Abilene's railroad heritage and inform the public about it. While our main focus is on building, operating and conducting public showings of our model train layouts, there are a number of other ways we can approach the challenge of living up to our charter if we have members who are interested and will take the time to help make things happen. Examples could include historical research for informational projects, historical dioramas which could be part of the model railroad layouts or separate exhibits, presenting programs to school children on railroading, etc. If any of these sound interesting to you, please give some thought to joining us. ASMR is active in the Big Country and welcomes anyone interested in any aspect of railroading.
